The commercialization of the necessary agricultural products in the family table has a strong impact on all the towns and bateyes of the municipality of Pedro Betancourt Cooperatives, peasants and producers of urban agriculture make it possible for vegetables, fruits and vegetables to reach every corner station and even though it is sometimes a bit expensive, they are within everyone's reach. An example of this is the point of sale near the Bus Terminal in the head town of the territory. This kiosk is attended by vendors from nearby cooperatives and others who harvest their products for the common welfare
